Associate VP for Human Resources and CHRO

These are the things I treasure most:

Being a daughter to my mother who taught me to live by faith and action; to be grateful for all things; to excel and give it my best every day, not just today.

Being a sister to my brother who considers me to be a guiding light, a living example, a pillar of strength, the “wise one”.

Being an “Auntie” to my nephews who consider me to be the “successful one”; the relative who made it happen — for herself, for her family and others, against all odds.

Being a friend to those in need.

Being a leader for my team.
